

SOCIOLOGY (SOCI)

SOCI C1000 Introduction to Sociology (3.0 Units)

This course introduces students to Sociology: the study of people, groups, and institutions that shape people's lives. Through a mix of theory, research, and real-world examples, students explore key sociological concepts like culture, inequality, power, collective action, and social change. With content reflecting diverse histories and lived experiences, students make connections between their lives and the social forces that influence individual opportunities and choices.

Students in this course will develop a critical lens that allows them to better understand and transform themselves and society. Grade option.
