

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

All areas of Criminal of Justice require that individuals possess the personal and physical qualities essential to become effective peace officers. Many employment opportunities currently exist for individuals desiring entrance into law enforcement and corrections related fields at various governmental levels. Security and corrections are fast-growing professions. Individuals interested in these professions should understand that the work is demanding, requiring a combination of training, education, and experience, along with mental and physical stamina.

The Criminal Justice program is designed to develop a student's understanding of the various operational functions within the criminal justice system. The educational emphasis will be the examination of crime causation, functions of law enforcement, the criminal court system, and corrections. Students majoring in this subject area can prepare themselves for careers in law enforcement, corrections, and security at both the operational and administrative levels.

Career Opportunities

Careers in the criminal justice field are found at the federal, state, county, and city levels.

Employment opportunities include:

- Communications Technician/Dispatcher
- Correctional Officer
- Criminalist
- Criminologist
- Deputy Sheriff
- Forensic Technician
- Juvenile Correctional Officer
- Police Officer
- Probation Officer
- Security Officer and Manager
- Special Agent/Investigator
- Deputy Coroner
- School Police Officer
- Reserve Police Officer/Sheriff's Deputy

Careers at the state, county, or city level usually require a high school diploma, but an associate's degree is preferable. Careers in law enforcement usually start with Police Academy Training. The modular format provides the opportunity to become a reserve officer while completing Module II and III of training.
